The much awaited Hansel & Gretel: Witch Hunters is all set to hit the silver screens in India this Friday, Feb 1st. The film, which saw its worldwide release on 25th January, has been pleasantly welcomed by audiences all over.

The film revolves around the siblings Hansel (Jeremy Renner) & Gretel (Gemma Arterton), who after being put through a tragic childhood, have grown up to become professional bounty hunters. And we're not talking about killing criminals or robbers here. Hansel & Gretel are out to hunt & kill witches all across the world. After having been tricked & tortured by an evil witch at the Gingerbread house, the duo has grown up with the belief that revenge is sweeter than candy. A mysterious turn of events brings back some familiar, but not particularly welcoming faces from their childhood, & the witch hunt is taken to a whole new level.

The premiere of the film will be held on 30th January, 2013. A contest was conducted online, and 5 lucky winners were chosen to go watch the premiere of the movie. The audiences have been buzzing with excitement as the release date comes closer, and can't wait to be part of the witch hunt along with Hansel & Gretel.
