Presently, the commercial is going viral on the Social Networking sites. Viewer's are tweeting and sharing it in a huge way, Thanks to its continuous Teaser that was having countless hits on YouTube recently. The Aam Janta loves both the actresses who are complementing each other with their never-ending beauty.

The Commercial packs all the humor and refreshing candor of the Snickers brand and at the same time keeps very much to the Indian mentality and standard. The commercial has been directed by technically skilled Bollywood director Imtiaz Ali and also sees the very small but 'Hitting-The-Right-Chord' appearance of another actress, Urmila Matondkar, who is also making a small-screen comeback after a long time.
