

No Entry Mein Entry – will Salman rule again?

•Written by Nayan Karekar•

••Friday•, 04 •January• 2013 05:59• - •Last Updated•

••Monday•, 07 •January• 2013 01:02•

No doubt that Salman's career is on a very high note now, and the kind of films he have in a pipeline it seems like actor will again witness a great time this year as well. With Brother Sohail Khan's Sher Khan & Sajid Nadiyadwala's Kick, Salman Khan now also has one more big film to his credit.

After the much speculations and talks, Salman has finally signed on the sequel of 2005's Super-hit film 'No Entry Mein Entry.' Salman has also given the dates for the film's shooting. The Producer of the film Boney Kapoor has confirmed the news they will start shooting from June 2013. Anees Bazmee will again be directing the film. He has directed the original film too.

After finishing Sohail's film Sher Khan, Salman will start shooting for No Entry sequel and Sajid Nadiadwala's Kick from June 2013.