After giving an incredible performance in Chakravyuh, Arjun Rampal has done it yet again. The actor has left the audiences spellbound with his performance in his latest release Inkaar. Released on the 18th of January, Inkaar has struck the right chord with the audiences as well as critics.

Arjun plays the character of Rahul Verma, the CEO of an advertising agency, effortlessly and has managed to keep the audiences on the edge with his undying charm. The actor has left the critics stunned with his part in the film. His powerful, full-blooded performance is his trump-card to victory. Arjun also earned a lot of praises for his look in the film as fans couldn't stop raving about his dashing corporate avatar. With the release of the film, Arjun has indeed struck gold!

The actor has started the year on a great note. Here's hoping that Arjun continues to charm and entertain the audiences with his upcoming releases.
