After the 1st dhamakedaar trailer launch at Gaiety Galaxy, Blockbuster Director Sajid Khan released the much awaited disco song 'Thank God It's Friday' in very retro style on 22nd February,

Gorgeous Sonakshi Sinha who has done this special disco song was also present at the launch along with the producers Siddharth Roy Kapoor, Managing Director, Studios, Disney UTV and Vashu Bhagnani (Pooja Entertainment) and talented Sunidhi Chauhan and the music composers of the song Sachin -Jigar.

The actress was donning one of the look from her song wearing a vintage sequined dress and headband and looked every inch of a diva in it. She grooved to the tunes of Thank God It's Friday along with the other dancers on the stage and Sajid Khan was at his wittiest best and even showed some of his dancing skills while Sunidhi Chauhan beautifully sang few lines from the song for the audiences present there.

The pub was converted into a complete 80's era classic discotheque with shiny disco balls and reflective mirrors.

Everyone present there absolutely loved the disco song and were seen enjoying the music. Thank God It's Friday song promises to definitely make you relive the 80's disco era!!

Well, it looks like 'Himmatwala' will be one electrifying film to watch out for!!
