Although her performance in her big comeback film English Vinglish got her much critical appreciation, Sridevi has to decide if she will agree to do a cameo.

A few days ago, Fox Star Studios sent feelers to the talented actress to make a special appearance in Amole Gupte's upcoming film Hawaa Hawaai. The out-and-out masala movie stars Amole's son Partho Gupte and Saqib Saleem and is being shot in various locations in the city.

The famous Mr India song, Kehte Hain Mujhko Hawa Hawai, gave Sridevi the tag of Miss Hawa Hawai.

A source close to the film told Mirror: "The makers strongly feel that she should be a part of the film since its very name is derived from one of Sridevi's most famous songs. Her shoot is being planned for January. She will be seen in a few scenes. However, she is yet to give her nod to the cameo.
