With Sholay 3D being released on 3rd January, it has given several youngsters the chance to watch the film on the big screen.

Varun Dhawan who recently saw the film during a special screening just can't get over the experience of watching the film on the big screen with a 3D format.

Varun says, "Watching Sholay 3D was one of the most enriching experience of my life. I am really proud of the fact that all the effects of the film, from the 3D conversion to the sound quality to the picture updation etc has happened in India".

The actor feels that all the youngsters of today's generation should not give a miss to a film which serves as the most cult and the classic films of Indian cinema.

Varun adds, the magic which the film creates is unbelievable, with 3D it just recreates the magic all over again. I have watched the film for about 100 times on TV but witnessing it on the silver screen in a 3D format is a superb experience and every cinema lover should definitely go for it"

The actor strongly urges all the young actors and the youth to go the film and experience it themselves.
