Priyanka Chopra will essay the role of a cabaret dancer in Ali Abbas Zafar's much-anticipated film Gunday and the actress-turned-singer claims that her look in the film is not inspired by any Indian actor.

At a recently held event, when PeeCee was asked if she has taken inspiration from any Indian actor for her cabaret dancer look in the movie, she said, "We have worked very hard on that look and Ali's vision was very clear actually. This look of mine is not inspired by any Indian actor, Ali was very clear that it is English cabaret and it was very popular in Kolkata during that era and it was inspired from Europe. So this is that kind of cabaret and even the dance in it is very European."

Gunday stars Ranveer Singh and Arjun Kapoor as the male leads and the YRF flick is slated to release on February 14, this year.
