It was Sajid Nadiadwala who first bought the rights to make a film on the book 2 States. Karan Johar had approached Sajid to be his partner in the film.

And now that the film has done extremely well, Sajid Nadiadwala is very proud to be associated with the film from the very beginning and for the longest time.

The response of the film has been so good, that it surely calls for a huge celebration.

However, the celebration of 2 States is totally incomplete if Sajid Nadiadwala, who has spearheaded this successful project wouldn't be here.

So, Karan Johar has called Sajid Nadiadwala to congratulate him on their triumphant partnership as well as to specifically mention how the success party of 2 States will not happen till he is back from Poland, where he is currently shooting his next film, Kick with Salman Khan.

It has been a fantastic year for Sajid Nadiadwala with both his films, Highway and 2 States getting massive response and acclaim.
