Vikram Singh, who will be seen playing the antagonist Rajjo Fauji in Sajid Nadiadwala's 'Heropanti', recently finished dubbing for the film and is quite looking forward to the release of the film.

Talking about it, Singh said, "I am really looking forward to this film and the audience reaction to my role-a loud Haryanvi Jat boxing champion named Rajjo Fauji. As I am from the North as well as a trained boxer, this role was a dream come true for me and I would like to thank Sajid Nadiadwala and Shabbir Khan for giving me this opportunity. "

Vikram also disclosed that for his accent and diction, he roped in his Haryanvi pals to help him to get the tone and accent right. "My friends really went out of their way to help me as and when I needed help with the language as though I am from Delhi, I am not much familiar with the nuances of Haryanvi language. However, I had my friends with me and I had a great time dubbing for the film. "
