Film-makers always face problems when it comes to shoot with toddlers. As the kid will do whatever he wishes to do and one cannot brief a 9 month old about a scene.

On the sets of Koyelaanchal, the unit took more than 5 to 6 hrs to make 9 months toddler to say the word "Mumma" for a scene. But the baby Manjeet refused to say the word. After long hours of wait, finally Suniel Shetty inquired why the shoot was getting delayed. The assistant director told Suniel Shetty their problem. And then Anna just went and picked up kid and asked him to say Mumma, the very next moment kid said the word
