Sidharth Malhotra has been visiting theaters to gather first hand audience reactions for his film, Ek Villian.

The film which released this weekend is doing extremely well at the box office.

Sidharth has made a couple of outings where he has visited theaters. He is trying to gather non biased reaction and liking the experience

Ek Villian marks Sidharth in a very different avataar. Sidharth was very nervous before the release. Its the first time audiences will see him doing hard core action and stunts. Hence, he was apprehensive if he will be able to do justice and if the audience will accept him.

On his previous two outings Student of The year and Hasse Toh Phasee the audiences have seen him essaying the role of the boy next door. As an actor he is pushing the envelope in Ek Villian which was making him anxious.

However the reaction has be unanimously positive and Sidharth has been elated. Says Sidharth, "I have been visiting theaters to catch first hand audience reaction. It was wonderful and one of a kind experience!! "
