

Table No. 21 launches a groovy item song

•Written by Amit Bachchan•

••Monday•, 10 •December• 2012 01:57• - •Last Updated•

••Tuesday•, 11 •December• 2012 00:23•

After an unprecedented response on the edgy trailer, the Eros International and Next Gen Film's thriller Table No. 21 gets grooving in their newly released title track, 'If You Lie, You Die'. The song has Paresh Rawal, Rajeev Khandelwal and Tena Desae dancing to the upbeat song.

The digital launch also saw a 24 hour countdown on their official pages to build up for the release of the title song. The lyrics of the song are very catchy as the tagline of this high concept thriller, 'If You Lie, You Die' is the theme of the song. Paresh Rawal, Rajeev Khandelwal and Tena Desae will be seen dancing to the choreography of Remo D'Souza. The item song is a visual treat as the audiences will get to see Paresh Rawal dancing in his villainous avatar. Rajeev Khandelwal and Tena Desae make a great couple as they dance to the foot tapping number.

Directed by Aditya Datt, Table No. 21 is a twisted tale about a couple out on a lavish holiday and how they end up on the Table No. 21 sitting across a mysterious man. Find out what happens further when the mystery unfolds on the 4th of Jan, 2013!!