Alvira Agnihotri who is also the sister of the star Khan, Salman Khan visits the Golden Temple to pay respects before her dear brother has a film release.

This time around Alvira, wife of Atul Agnihotri will be going to the sacred place before the release of her husband's production project, O Teri.

Alvira has a strong belief in the holy place and makes sure she visits the place before a big event in the life of people close to her.

The film O Teri starring Pulkit Samrat and Bilal Amrohi is Atul's next film after the big film, Bodyguard.

The film is extremely special for the entire team as Bilal Amrohi will be debuting with this film and Pulkit Samrat will be coming back on the big screen after Fukrey, which was immensely appreciated by the audiences.

The film is about two intern journalists who are in the search of a big story to get recognized at work for their capabilities.

O Teri which is slated to release on 28th March 2014 is a satire comedy and has a funny take on real life events
