The tragic attacks of 26/11 still send a shiver down the spine when one reminisces about it and so does RGV's cinematic interpretation of the unforgettable event. Nana Patekar and Sanjeev Jaiswal have been praised for their remarkable performance in The Attacks of 26/11.

The film keeps the attention of the audiences intrigued from the very beginning as the film manages to evoke the sentiments of 26/11. The hard-hitting music and cinematography is described as outstanding by the critics.

The film not only chronicles the terror attacks, but also pays homage to the sentiments of the people of India and especially the heroes and victims of 26/11. Directed by Ram Gopal Varma, the film has left the whole nation moved with its strong content and incredible performances.

Watching movies like this amazes me, how updated and contemporary is the classic text book of film making called RGV

purijagan ☐ @purijagan

Who else on the Indian movie arena can dare to venture and narrate it to the levels of such emotional excellence ... but 'RGV'

A powerful retelling of a tragic event in history, The Attacks of 26/11 makes a strong appeal to the audiences-'Never Forget' the tragedy of 26/11.

Overall the film has been unanimously claimed as a must-watch!
