Sonam And Fawad At The Trailer Launch Of Khoobsurat, which is Disney India's first Indian movie. A remake of 1980 Hrishikesh Mukherjee gem by the same name, Khoobsurat has evolved by becoming princelier in its approach. In fact, it has a good blend of Disney's brand of fairy tales with a Prince Charming and Indian values. But apart from the interesting trailer, it was something else that caught our attention at the event.

Sonam wore a white dress, paired with red pumps but her earrings didn't quite match with each other!

On being asked about the same pat came Sonam's reply, "I'm wearing different coloured earrings because I couldn't find two of the same colour. So yeah...maybe it will become a fashion trend."
