For the first time ever Tiger Shroff will be taking his parents out for a small getaway with his hard earned money.

The actor has garnered a lot of appreciation for his performance in his debut film Heropanti. The film became a roaring hit at the box office.

Since the announcement of his debut had come out his parents stood by him like pillars. The actor wanted to do something special for them for their contribution to his success.

He was keen to take his parents out somewhere where they could relax and have a good time.

Tiger has been planning to take them out on a 4 day trip to an undecided vacation. He has been considering a lot of destination and has been making all the arrangements on his own. The actor is planning to leave for this trip in a couple of days.

Tiger confirms the news and adds, "I have been planning this trip for my family. It is a great feeling as I will be taking them out this time."
