After making lot of chaos in Bigg Boss's new house, the Designer Imam Siddique is now again entering the show. Imam left Bigg Boss house following his abnormal behavior with inmates Aashka Garodia.

In just one day Imam has given high TRP to the show, so it was very obvious that he would surely make a re-entry. Imam has clarified his stand for all bitter part he shared in house. Imam said, "Being a free spirited man, I'm bound to do things I love. In the stride of getting people to understand what I want, I went to an extreme of which I am very apologetic." Imam has apologized to the show and now he is happy that he is given another chance to re-enter the show.

"To make mistakes is human and I definitely feel I will make the most of this second chance given to me. Given this chance of going back, I have the enthusiasm of a kid who is getting his old toys back." He added.
