The bubbly actress Ayesha Takia feels that the Music Reality show Sur Kshetra has given her so much after going off from Bollywood. She says she has reached an important milestone in her career. Ayesha did her first live act for the grand finale of Sur Kshetra in Dubai. Though she is known for her bubbly nature and sweet smile, Ayesha was quite nervous while doing her live anchoring for the first ever time.

She was excited throughout the show and ensured that the crowd reciprocated to her enthusiasm and energy to the contestants. She said, "I am so emotionally attached to the contestants that I think got more nervous than them before every shoot. The show has helped me portray myself, the real me, in the best way possible."
