Veteran actor Danny Denzongpa, who was last seen in 2009 release Acid Factory, is now all set to enthrall his fans with his larger than life character in Anthony D'souza's Boss.

The film will feature Akshay Kumar in the titular role, however Danny will play the Big Boss in the movie and reportedly, his character will bear some uncanny similarities to Robin Hood. A source claims that though Denzongpa is known for playing negative characters, in this film, he'll essay a positive role. His character will be seen extending his generous hand for the good of the society.

Boss also stars Mithun Chakraborty, Shiv Pandit, Aditi Rao Hydari and Johnny Lever and is slated to release on October 16.
